

Andre Jenkins

Hello, my name is Andre Jenkins. I am a junior at UNR, and my major is International Business Management. I do not currently know what sort of career I want to pursue after graduation, but I might look into logistics.

I consider myself to be technically proficient, as I have set up my own website in ISID1, I have built my own desktop PC, and routinely use software like the IBM AS400 system, which I use primarily for inventory management, as I am a forklift driver.

I am from Citrus Heights, California, but I am actually half Swiss, and still have family there. My hobbies include cosplay, card games (currently the One Piece TCG), vinyl collecting, and video games. Currently my favorite music artists are an indie pop group called Good Kid, and the duo of Twenty One Pilots. I can't currently think of a favorite movie, but my favorite shows are Murder Drones, Stargate SGI, and Cowboy Bebop.
